It's an old adage that too many cooks spoil the broth. But when a tour of the White House kitchen by a group of foreign chefs ends in murder, it's Olivia Paras who finds herself in the soup...

Due to a government sequester, entertaining at the White House has been severely curtailed. So executive chef Olivia Paras is delighted to hear that plans are still on to welcome a presidential candidate from the country of Saardisca—the first woman to run for office—and four of that nation's top chefs.

But while leading the chefs on a kitchen tour, pastry chef Marcel passes out suddenly—and later claims he was drugged. When one of the visiting chefs collapses and dies, it's clear someone has infiltrated the White House with ill intent. Could it be an anti-Saardiscan zealot? Is the candidate a target? Are the foreign chefs keeping more than their recipes a secret? Once again, Olivia must make sleuthing the special of the day...

Matthew Seifert:

As a scholar exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just tiny students that has reading's spirit or real their leisure activity. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to go to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring along with can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore , this All the President's Menus (A White House Chef Mystery) can make you feel more interested to read.
